PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Authorities delved into the Delaware River with a powerful magnet Tuesday, seeking two pistols which they believe may wrap up their solution of the Dante Restaurant murders.

Under strange and complex circumstances, Judith Lopinson, 25, wife of the restaurant's part-owner, and Joseph Malito, 52, a partner in the business, were slain on the night of June 19. The killing was done in the tiny basement office of the midcity cafe.

GOP Summit Set For Today

HERSHEY, Pa., (AP) — Republican leaders poured in Tuesday night generally optimistic about obtaining party unity at a scheduled summit meeting Wednesday.

GOP presidential nominee Barry Goldwater was expected to outline at a closed session of top party members some of his ideas about the presidential campaign against President Johnson.

Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower was to speak at a luncheon session. Goldwater recently reported that Eisenhower was giving him "enthusiastic" support and would make several speeches in his behalf.

Barry's Wealth $1.47 Million

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — The wealth of Republican presidential nominee Barry Goldwater and his wife is approximately $1.47 million, a spokesman for the Valley National Bank said Tuesday.

"It goes up and down because of the stocks involved but that is a reasonably close figure," he said.

The bank administers the Goldwater trust accounts.

Pilot Marched Through Streets

TOKYO (AP) — North Viet Nam announced Tuesday that a captured American fighter pilot was marched "pale, weary and awe-stricken" through the streets of Hanoi after he was shot down during the Gulf of Tonkin retaliatory raids.

Radio Hanoi called the prisoner, Lt. (j.g.) Everett Alvarez of San Jose, Calif., "the U.S. pilot, one of defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara's strong men."

The impact tore a deep gash in the double-decker bus and injured several others. Seven were taken to hospitals.

Seneca Indians Gets $15 Million

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate-House conference committee agreed Tuesday to a $15,000,573 damage and rehabilitation fund to help New York's Seneca Indians adjust to construction of the Allegheny River Dam and Reservoir.

The figure represented a compromise between bills passed by the House last year and the Senate last spring.

Market Has Slow Session

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market dragged its heels through another slow session Tuesday as Wall Street failed to get any message from the cloudy crystal ball of international affairs.

Volume remained at a sub-normal 3.46 million shares, not much improvement over Monday's 3.05 million.

The Dow Jones industrial average took a minor loss of 1.27 at 828.08.

Pentagon Refutes Barry's Statement

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon described as "totally false" Tuesday Sen. Barry Goldwater's statement that the U.S. capacity to deliver nuclear weapons may be reduced by 90 per cent in the next decade.

A statement replying to the assertion made by the Republican presidential nominee in a speech Monday was issued by Arthur Sylvester, chief spokesman for Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara.

"... May Be Cut"

In his speech before the National Association of Counties here, Goldwater had said: "Under our present defense leadership, with its utter disregard for new weapons, our deliverable nuclear capacity may be cut down by 90 per cent in the next decade. Let me repeat that. The figure is startling and yet undeniable."

The Pentagon asserted that Goldwater's statement was "not only without foundation but contrary to the facts."

It said that the administration since 1961 has taken drastic steps to improve the capability of forces, listed statistics on missile programs.

"The facts are that in 1970 we will have a capability to deliver on target two and one half times as many warheads as we had in 1961 and a greater number than we have today," the statement said.

Public Information Goldwater's speechwriter said the senator's 90 per cent cut forecast was based on public information about bombers, missiles and their payloads.

"You take what we've got and you take what we're going to have and that is the result," Karl Hess said in the figure Goldwater used in an address Monday to the National Association of Counties.

Hess said no classified information was used in reaching the figure. "It's just payloads times vehicles," he said.

Research Staff He said Goldwater's research staff came up with the figure, and the Republican presidential nominee did not add any data from his own sources.

Goldwater is a member of the Senate Armed Services Committee and a major general in the Air Force Reserve.

The Arizona senator has repeatedly protested Pentagon planning that would put heavy emphasis on missiles instead of manned bombers.

Goldwater said Monday the nation could wind up in the 1970s "without a single one of the flexible, manned weapons."

Georgia Restaurant Owner Refuses To Admit Negroes

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — A restaurant owner who has resisted integration by brandishing a gun and furnishing customers with ax handles, refused again Tuesday to comply with federal court orders to admit Negroes.

More Ax Handles Lester Maddox, operator of the Pickrick, brought out more ax handles and said if he is forced to close he would turn the restaurant into headquarters for "the Americans for Goldwater for President."

Two Negro youths who sought service were turned away. They appeared half an hour before the 11 a.m. opening of the cafeteria and did not reappear when it opened.

The showdown between Maddox and the courts attracted a crowd of curious estimated at more than 200 that milled around outside. Inside were more than 400 customers eating, or in line.

Maddox asked the U. S. Supreme Court for an order staying effectiveness of a ruling that the civil rights law section dealing with public accommodations is constitutional. Justice Hugo L. Black turned down his request Monday, together with a similar request by the Heart of Atlanta Motel Corp.

First Court Cases The Atlanta cases were the first court tests of the public accommodations section of the 1964 Civil Rights Act.

Moreton Rolleston, head of the motel corporation, said he would comply with the court order. But Maddox said he would never comply.

The suit against Maddox was filed by three Negro theological students who sought service at the Pickrick the day after the civil rights bill was signed by President Johnson.

They were chased from the parking lot by Maddox, who waved a pistol, and by white persons carrying ax handles.

Maddox placed two boxes of ax handles outside the front door of the restaurant Tuesday. One box bore the words, "Souvenirs (or otherwise) $2 each."

Manikin He also placed a fully dressed manikin on a bench in front of the building. As newsmen and the crowd looked on, Maddox turned the manikin over and stabbed it in the back with a knife.

"This manikin represents what has happened to the American free enterprise system. It has been stabbed in the back," he said.

Greece, Makarios Split On Attacks; Chinese Jets Based Near Hanoi

Planes Old, But Usable

WASHINGTON (AP) — A number of Red Chinese jet warplanes are now based at North Vietnamese airbases near Hanoi, the Defense Department said Tuesday.

But they are the older, hand-me-down types once given to China by the Soviet Union, described in the Pentagon announcement as MIG15s and MIG17s.

No Surprise

The Pentagon made a point of saying that their appearance was no surprise.

Arthur Sylvester, Defense Department information chief, preceded his announcement by recalling that Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara said last Thursday that it was probable Red Chinese aircraft would appear in North Viet Nam, a country which has few planes and no jet-powered combat aircraft.

Number Unknown

Then Sylvester said that "We now have indications that a number of Chinese Communist MIG15s and MIG17s have been introduced into North Viet Nam." He said this had been expected for some time because it was known the Reds were lengthening runways at airfields in the Hanoi district. Longer runways are needed for jet aircraft.

Although Sylvester referred to a "number" of MIGs being in North Viet Nam, this apparently did not mean any large force.

Other Sources

Other government sources have suggested that the present total might be 12 to 15.

The MIGs "could very well" be piloted by Red Chinese airmen, Sylvester said, although he also commented that North Vietnamese pilots have been trained in China for use of jet aircraft.

Viet Cong Point Guns At Americans

SAIGON, South Viet Nam, (AP) — The Communists resorted to psychological warfare Tuesday in South Viet Nam. They handed out leaflets saying Viet Cong guerrillas would fire only on government units accompanied by U.S. military advisers.

South Vietnamese officials scoffed at the leaflets, distributed in hamlets outlying northwestern Saigon.

The government pulled an apparent propaganda move of its own in a well-announced shopping stroll by South Viet Nam's chief of state, Maj. Gen. Duong Van Minh and his family.

3 White Men Admit Killing Negro Woman

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Three white men pleaded guilty Tuesday to killing a Negro woman at the height of a race riot last spring.

At their arraignment, J.W. Rich, 21, Wayne M. Chessman, 21, and Elmer Kato, 19, all said "guilty" when asked how they pleaded to charges of murder.

They face a preliminary hearing next Monday, a grand jury investigation and then a trial before any degree of murder is established and any punishment assessed.

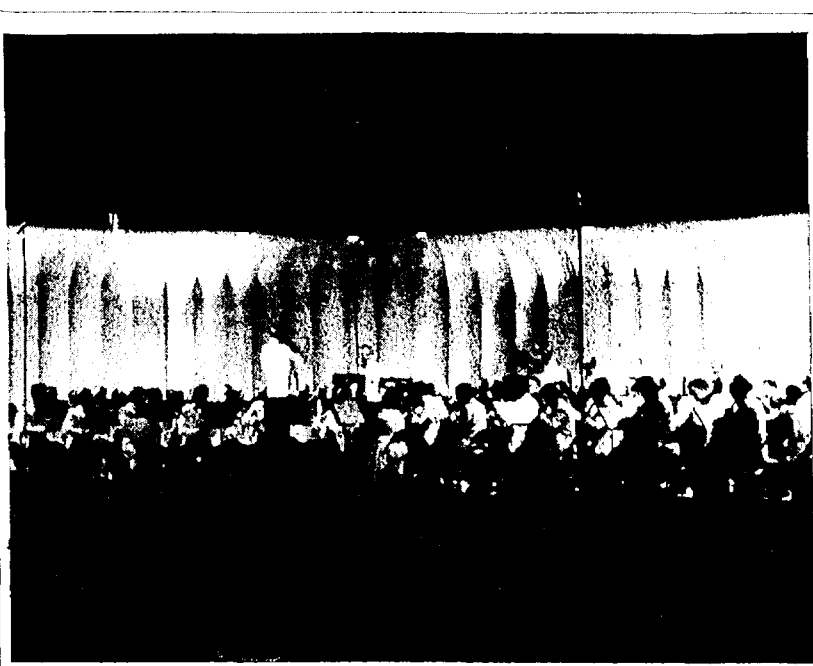

Economy Then he talked of a prospering economy. He said unemployment is below five per cent and is going to be driven still lower. He said purchasing power is up and it is going to go higher.

"Prices have been cut," the President said. "Federal spending has been held down. We intend to make every effort to keep the budget below $100 billion again next year."

"If prices remain stable, as they have, and prosperity continues, as it is, we want to cut some of our excise taxes at least — and, before too long, to cut income taxes once more."

$947.5 Million Voted For Anti-Poverty Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress responded Tuesday to election year urgings and okayed President Johnson's "war on poverty," a $947.5-million program sure to figure as an issue in the fall campaigning.

Senate passage, after some what reluctant acceptance of House amendments, completed action on Johnson's high priority antipoverty bill — disdainfully branded as "Madison Avenue" legislation by Republican presidential nominee Barry Goldwater.

LBJ Sees Possible Future Tax Cut

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson held out hope Tuesday for another income tax cut eventually as he declared that the nation's military strength will be kept at a peak.

The President said this before the same audience which heard Sen. Barry Goldwater say Monday that the Democrats have so depleted the "arsenal of freedom" that the United States faces the prospect of going into the 1970s without a single new manned bomber and a possible 40 per cent reduction in deliverable nuclear capacity.

Johnson spoke to the National Association of counties.

"Our resources are committed, our sacrifices are made, our vigil is maintained," Johnson said, "so that there shall be no win for aggression in our times."

Peace Comes First "Since 1961 we have worked very hard to strengthen the hopes for peace. That is — and that must always be — the first work of our land."

"We have also worked to strengthen our preparedness, for only the strong can be brave in the pursuit of peace," he said.

Reverting to figures he has used before, the President said that expenditures in preparedness in the last four fiscal years increased by $28 billion over those in "the year we came in."

He said it would take some time to spell out how much additional preparedness the $28 billion bought, "but I can assure you it is there and the world knows it's there," he said.

"Because of that, the world knows — and all Americans can know — that the United States is the strongest nation in history. And I want you to know and the world to know that all of our planes and all of the work that are now going on will keep it that way."

Johnson said the national strength isn't in arms alone.

Financial Aid It's the first time the SBA has put great emphasis on extending direct financial aid to those who operate very small enterprises. "It's the most popular government program I've seen," one official, who has been in federal service 25 years, said Tuesday.

Good Morning! Why try to fool all the people all the time when a majority is all that's necessary?

The agency reported that one-third of its loans are in the new category, and the percentage probably will climb since 40 per cent of the applications now being processed fall in the "new policy" category.

The new policy provides loans of up to $15,000 and, for the first time, a businessman can put up his credit rating or other evidence of a good reputation in lieu of part of the collateral. In the past, the SBA asked for 100 per cent collateral.

"Our average loan was $53,000," said SBA Administrator Eugene P. Foley. "Many businesses can be helped with far less money."

Main Difference The main difference between an average SBA loan and a bank loan has been the term. The SBA will lend money over a period of 10 years in most instances; banks like terms of three months to one year.

In addition to the liberal loan program which went into operation in May, the SBA has what it calls a "68x" program in the experimental stage. Designed to aid Negroes, it provides loans up to $6,000 for periods up to six years, and there is greater emphasis on substituting character for collateral.

Pilot Projects Pilot projects are under way in predominantly Negro areas of Philadelphia, New York and Washington, D.C.

Foley says this does not constitute discrimination against whites.

He noted that in the first five months of the Philadelphia program, the number of loans to white persons exceeded those for Negroes by 3 to 2.

Cyprus, Turk Peace Hangs By Thread

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — A sharp split between Greece and President Makarios of Cyprus was reported from Athens Tuesday night. But the Greek government pledged full support to Cyprus in view of Turkish air raids on the island.

Makarios declared in a broadcast to the Greek Cypriots that he will fight on "alone or with others" to achieve victory. And the Cypriot ambassador pressed charges of Turkish violation of the U.N. cease-fire before the U.N. Security Council in New York.

With the consent of the 11 members, Council President Sivert A. Nielsen avoided to all nations concerned in the crisis to end flights of planes over Cyprus that would imperil the cease-fire.

Athens government-controlled radio said the Greek Cypriot attack on Turkish Cypriots in northwest Cyprus last week was launched without consultation with the Greek government.

The attack brought air raids by Turkish jets on the Greek Cypriots, precipitating a situation that threatened war between Greece and Turkey, members of the Atlantic Alliance.

Athens Radio said the Greek Cypriot attack on the Turkish Cypriots so alarmed Premier George Papandreu of Greece that he called Makarios. "I express my deepest sorrow because we have agreed differently and you have acted differently."

Hasty Trip The split may have been behind the hasty trip to Athens Tuesday by Spyros Kyprianou, Greek Cypriot foreign minister. He met with Papandreu and afterward a communique said Greece pledged full support to Cyprus in case of an attack by Turkey.

With Makarios again talking of fighting, U.N. experts in Nicosia said the U.N. cease-fire could vanish in one explosive puff.

The same sort of word came from a Western diplomat in Ankara, who said, "The situation is hanging by a thread."

Turkey sent two jets over the northwest coast of Cyprus on reconnaissance flights. Turkish landing craft and naval units were reported standing by at the major port of Iskenderun.

Meanwhile, Turkish Cypriots charged Tuesday that a Greek warplane attacked a mosque at Kokkina, with rockets Sunday, killing two people and wounding four others.

Kokkina is the last Turkish-held enclave along the northwest coast of Cyprus.

Foreign Minister Spyros Kyprianou issued a victory-or-death declaration on a visit to Athens, Greece, to confer with the Greek government of Premier George Papandreu. He said there will be no withdrawal.

Sen. Morse In the Senate, Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., cracked through administration lines and won adoption of an amendment for an across the board slash in the program to $3.25 billion. The vote was 50 to 35.

Supporting the slash were 31 Democrats and 19 Republicans while 26 Democrats and 9 Republicans opposed it.

Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois came out of a meeting of GOP senators and told newsmen that chances of reaching an accord with Democratic leaders on a reapportionment plan had gone away.

"We discovered all of the language of these alternate plans was pulling the teeth out of the proposal," Dirksen said.

"There has to be teeth in the bill," he said.

Dirksen's Rider Dirksen referred to a rider he plans to try to hitch onto the foreign aid bill to slow down court-ordered reapportionments under the Supreme Court's one-man, one-vote edict of last June.

Several senators have announced they will talk at length against Dirksen's proposal, and Dirksen conceded there may be "extended debate" which could wreck Democratic leaders' hopes of adjourning Congress before their national convention meets in Atlantic City on Aug. 21.

Major items authorized in Tuesday's action include $112.5 million for a job corps and training programs for unemployed youth; $340 million for loans in poverty stricken rural areas; and $150 million for job training demonstration projects.

Businessmen Benefit By New SBA Loan Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Shoestring businessmen have been flocking to the Small Business Administration over the past few months to take advantage of an easier new policy on loans, officials of the agency say.

Financial Aid It's the first time the SBA has put great emphasis on extending direct financial aid to those who operate very small enterprises. "It's the most popular government program I've seen," one official, who has been in federal service 25 years, said Tuesday.

State News Roundup

Game Unit To Buy Land

HARRISBURG (AP) — The State Game Commission said yesterday it will purchase approximately 4,900 acres of land with funds from the Project 70 land conservation program.

The commission said the State Planning Board has approved acquisition of three separate tracts covering six counties.

The largest tract, called the Middle Creek project, contains some 2,000 acres in Clay and West Coaling townships in Lancaster County, and Heidelberg Twp. in Lebanon County.

The primary reason for purchasing this land is to develop a water fowl management and hunting area, the commission said.

Ike To Speak At GOP Meeting

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP) — For President Dwight D. Eisenhower will speak to a luncheon gathering of Republican leaders here at the Wednesday summit meeting called by GOP presidential nominee Barry Goldwater.

The Republican National Committee announced the schedule in Washington Monday.

The committee said 38 party leaders — among them 14 Republican governors — will be on hand for a closed business session Wednesday morning.

Eisenhower will speak at the luncheon, open to the press, at 1 p.m. EDT, and a news conference will follow.

Ground Broken For State Office

HARRISBURG (AP) — Tossing a scoop of dirt into the air, Gov. Scranton officially broke ground Monday for construction of a $17 million state office building in Harrisburg.

"The office building for which we are preparing this ground means more efficient and better government for the Commonwealth," Scranton said in brief ceremonies above the new William Penn Museum Plaza north of the main capitol.

The 14-story structure, the biggest single investment for a state office building in state history, is expected to be put under construction February and completed by the fall of 1965.

Fatal Accident Rate Down

HARRISBURG (AP) — State Police Commissioner E. Wilson Purdy said yesterday the "diligence and efforts" of his men were responsible for a 4.5 per cent reduction of fatal accidents on rural roads during the first seven months this year.

Purdy sent a memo to field units commending them for the improved record.

The commissioner added that the drop "is all the more remarkable" when it is taken into consideration that traffic volume has increased by 4 per cent from last year.

At the same time, Purdy praised the driving public for its "obvious alertness and caution" in keeping fatalities below last year's level—533 to 553.

Pennsylvania GOP Key Target

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pennsylvania ranks as a key target in Republican presidential nominee Barry Goldwater's campaign against President Johnson, an aide said yesterday.

Lee Edwards, director of public information at the Republican National Committee, described Pennsylvania as a pivotal state, and said it is one of five with top priority ratings.

The others, he said, are California, Illinois, Ohio and Texas. Edwards said the Goldwater forces hope Gov. William W. Scranton will campaign for the ticket outside Pennsylvania as well as in his home state.

Scott, Blatt Agree On Point

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — U.S. Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., and Secretary of Internal Affairs Genevieve Blatt, a Democrat, Monday agreed in part on the importance of cooperation between cities in Pennsylvania.

They made separate speeches to 400 mayors and council members attending the 65th annual League of Cities' annual convention here.

Scott mentioned the need for intercommunity exchanges, but placed greater emphasis on letting each city learn to help itself.

Rooney Urges Congress To Reject Port Bill

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Congressman Fred B. Rooney, Democrat of Pennsylvania's 15th district, testified yesterday against Senate Bill 2346 which would finance a port on the lower Delaware River with toll bridge revenues. He urged Congress to reject legislation.

Rooney said in testimony before the Subcommittee of the Senate Judiciary Committee that toll bridges under the Delaware River Joint Toll Bridge Commission were built with the understanding that tolls would be removed as soon as the bonds floated for their construction were amortized.

He pointed out that tolls on the bridges had decreased $109,384.35 from 1962 to 1963 mainly because of a revenue drop in the Trenton-Morrisville bridge, which is in the same area as the proposed port. The remaining bridges of the authority all occur in Rooney's district.

The Easton-Phillipsburg Bridge, he added, provided more than 55 per cent of the tolls collected, while the bridges in his district accounted for more than 80 per cent of the total.

Would Pay 90 Per Cent "This means, in effect, that the residents of my district, the commercial users of the bridges whose business and industries are located in my district and the tremendous volume of tourist-vacation traffic which occurs each year in my district would be, literally, paying nearly 90 percent of the cost of the port development. Such a levy, I believe, represents a gross injustice to the people of Northampton, Monroe and Pike Counties," the Congressman said.

He went on, "The people of my district have been led to believe . . . that every effort would be made to retire the bonds on these bridges so that they would become toll free."

" . . . there have been recent suggestions on the part of Commissioners and Commission staff members that such an eventuality is in the far-distant future. This indication is of fairly recent vintage; as a matter of fact, it has occurred increasingly since the proposal to build the port was first made," Rooney added.

He pointed out that he was not opposed to a port, but to the means of financing it proposed by the bill. Nor, he said, did he intend to censure the Commission. "They are acting in good faith in making this proposal and it is my belief that they are doing an estimable job," Rooney testified.

Opposed To Provisions The Democratic member of Congress added that the Bureau of the Budget, the Bureau of Public Roads and the Department of Commerce are all opposed to provisions in the measure.

Rooney concluded by saying that the state Department of Highways, upon the advice of the U.S. Bureau of Public Roads, has forbidden construction of a free bridge within 10 miles of any toll bridge. The result, he said, will be that Interstate Highway 78 will not be able to go through Easton, which would result in "loss of major, direct highway service."

He proposed that the Delaware River Port Authority be given the responsibility of building and financing the port instead. Rooney concluded his testimony by calling for an end to rivalry between agencies, and suggested consideration "of the general, public good."

Crowd Liked 'Sabrina Fair' But Reviewer Didn't Agree

By JEFF COX
Daily Record Reporter
MOUNTAINHOME — Kathryn Crosby and company treated out an old piece of suburban Americana (Sabrina Fair) last night at the Pocomo Playhouse. The packed house seemed to like it.

I kind of like Schmaltz — I choked up at Carousal — but Glen Cove, Long Island, isn't quite the fairyland they'd have us believe. After all, I was born in Glen Cove and got impetigo in the hospital.

But audiences always like the play. It's sort of a sure bet — so we won't kick an institution. Bing's wife Kathryn really tried to be a bouncy and sensitive Sabrina, and communicated much of the spirit of the rich little poor girl.

But she doesn't look like Sabrina. Somehow, Sabrina should have honey-blond hair and be a little more Garden Cityish. But her looks are not her fault. In fact they're no fault at all — she really is a strikingly beautiful woman, in the tradition of Audrey Hepburn . . . or perhaps la Hepburn is in the tradition of Kathryn Crosby.

The rest of the cast was adequate to their tasks, but were the tasks adequate to them? Nancy Cushman and Helen Noyes were fine, as were the men: John Lupion, Harold J. Kennedy, William Blackard, Richard Bowler, and John Irving.

Shouting Interludes Perhaps because of the play, perhaps because my youth does not permit me access to the arcana of high society melodrama, and certainly despite the performances, I was bored stiff with the whole first two acts. The third act had a lot of shouting, so I was forced to remain alert.

Katharine Rahl and Marj Lovett had small parts — but were competent. The four bit players at the dance were appropriately sophomoric.

Jack Bates overwhelmed everyone with his set, which was lavish, stylized, and worked well with the action. North Shore mansions must be inviolated however, for one goes to the bathhouse by the back steps, yet views Long Island Sound from the opposite side of the patio.

The dialogue flew fast — which is probably the director's doing. If the words and speeches were slowed down somewhat, perhaps the full sense of meaning could softly roll out upon the audience.

The action concerns a rich family living its fantasia of wealth in Glen Cove. Their chauffeur's daughter returns from Paris, where she has worked five years for a government agency. She of course has blossomed from a tomboy to "oh, boy."

Besmirch His Status First, a youngest son of the family is to marry her, but his parents won't have it. But it seems he never asked Sabrina. She refuses him, but not before her father — the chauffeur — refuses for her on the grounds it would besmirch his status.

So then she agrees to marry (she thinks) a French dandy who just drops in — from Paris. But the eldest son shows him up for a fool and she agrees to marry the eldest son. But not before the chauffeur has placated the family's abhorrent snobbery by announcing he is a millionaire.

So, amid quotes from Milton and soft music, and the odor of flounder from Long Island Sound, the two plight their troth.

Someday someone must explain how this play ever turned into an institution.

Concert Rained Out; 3,200 Invited Back

SHAWNEE - ON-DELAWARE — A sudden downpour of rain stopped the Philadelphia Orchestra concert at 9:30 last night and soaked an estimated crowd of 3,200 to their skins.

Henry Feltier, executive director of the Pocono Art Center, which sponsored the concert, invited those who had tickets to last night's concert to attend tonight's concert at Shawnee Inn at 8:30 p.m.

"We want everyone to come tomorrow night and ask them to keep their ticket stubs and show them at the gate," Feltier said.

Musicalian Collapses

The orchestra began at about 8:40 p.m. with Brahms' "Academic Festival Overture."

It was beginning the fourth movement of Beethoven's Symphony No. 7, just before the intermission, when rain began to fall.

During the Beethoven symphony, a musician who plays the French horn collapsed.

Ward O. Fearn, 45, of Havertown, Pa., became ill while waiting to perform a French horn passage. Dr. Joseph P.

Viglione of Stroudsburg called an ambulance and Fearn was admitted to the General Hospital at 10:40 p.m.

He was in guarded condition at the hospital.

The evening began with rain clouds threatening, but as darkness fell, it appeared that the concert would be completed. Rain started lightly at 9:20 and the musicians immediately stopped and packed their instruments to protect them.

The audience waited for a minute hoping the rain would stop and the concert would resume, but drops soon turned into a downpour of rain.

Feltier estimated that 250 inches of rain fell within a few minutes.

S-burg Man Freed On $2,000 Bail

STROUDSBURG — Holloman Cross, 38, of 18 N. Third St., Stroudsburg, who was charged with "assault with intent to maim," when he fired a 12-gauge shotgun blast at a man Sunday was released from the Monroe County Jail yesterday morning on $2,000 bail.

Cross was posted by Alexander Lawton of Cresco. Cross will receive a hearing before Floyd W. Kellogg, Stroudsburg Justice of the Peace Thursday at 10 a.m.

The charge stemmed from a heated argument between Cross and his wife, Lena, and another couple, Mrs. Ollie Francis of 370 Lincoln Ave., East Stroudsburg, and Arthur Gammarage of 8 Stottlet St., Stroudsburg, who was in a car in front of 18 N. Third St., Stroudsburg when the shooting occurred.

The charge filed by Gammarage carries with it a $2,000 fine or three years in prison or both.

GSA Approves Fund Switch For ESC Land

HARRISBURG — The General State Authority approved yesterday a transfer of $25,000 to cover land acquisition for a new women's dormitory at East Stroudsburg State College.

Dr. LeRoy J. Koehler, president of the college, said the new dormitory will be located on the east side of I-81 at the intersection of Normal St.

"This (transfer) is merely a technicality," he said.

The GSA Executive Board agreed to transfer the money from another $100,000 earmarked to purchase land for a field house and a classroom building at the college.

The GSA was told the $25,000 was not needed for the second land buy, but was needed for the first since the original $100,000 set aside for that purpose "will not be sufficient to acquire the necessary properties."

Both construction projects, in the planning and design stage, were authorized by the 1963 General Assembly. The Executive Board readily agreed to the transfer since it did not involve any additional or unallocated funds.

The charge stemmed from a heated argument between Cross and his wife, Lena, and another couple, Mrs. Ollie Francis of 370 Lincoln Ave., East Stroudsburg, and Arthur Gammarage of 8 Stottlet St., Stroudsburg, who was in a car in front of 18 N. Third St., Stroudsburg when the shooting occurred.

The charge filed by Gammarage carries with it a $2,000 fine or three years in prison or both.

County Park Commission Discusses Playground Help

STROUDSBURG — Hiring of playground personnel headed the discussion at a recent meeting of the Monroe County Park Commission. Herbert Altomose, chairman, presided.

The meeting was primarily called to discuss the hiring of personnel for the Third Street Playground and purchase of additional playground equipment. Equipment is being authorized for purchase and will be in use before the end of the season, Arthur Kitzman, secretary, said yesterday.

Others in attendance at the session were Atty. Russell Mervine, county solicitor, and Henry Hoffman and Stuart Pipher, Monroe County commissioners.

In other business, the commission discussed the Flagler Run Tract and have contacted the Stroudsburg Water Authority about its acquisition. The water authority refused to sell or rent the tract of land, Kitzman said.

Reviewed was the opening of Stokes' Mill. It was noted that it is also in the hands of the Stroudsburg Water Authority and nothing can be done now since their solicitor George Robinson is on vacation.

Truck Driver Files Suit Against Koda

STROUDSBURG — Robert Shive of Sellersville RD 1 started a law suit yesterday in Monroe County Court seeking in excess of $10,000 from Albert Koda, the driver of the trailer that exploded June 26 in Marshalls Creek and killed six.

The suit, filed by Atty. Maxwell Cohen, claims Shive received numerous injuries as a result of being stalled in traffic 50 yards from the ill-fated trailer.

The action was the first to be started in county court.

Shive, who was driving a tractor-trailer at the time of the accident, has also started a suit in Federal Court in Philadelphia seeking in excess of $10,000 from the American Cyanamide Co., owner of the trailer and explosives.

The suit in county court claims Koda let the trailer unattended while he was "engaged in transporting high explosives, a dangerous and ultra-hazardous activity."

Charges Negligent, Careless

It alleges Koda was negligent and careless in leaving the trailer unattended along and near a public highway.

Further, the suit specifically charges Koda with being negligent and careless when he allegedly:

- Failed to give proper and adequate warning to Shive of the extreme risk of danger to which Shive was exposed.
- Failed to give the regard to the rights, position and safety of plaintiff or persons similarly situated.
- Failed to keep signs on the trailer warning of the ultra-hazardous activity.
- Failed to transport high explosives in a safe vehicle.
- Violated the rules of the road, the rules, regulations and statutes of the United States pertaining to interstate carriers and statutes of the state pertaining to the operation of a motor vehicle upon the highway.

The suit claims Shive received a punctured right eardrum, bruised right shoulder, cuts on the right wrist and hand, severe shock to his nervous system.

It is alleged these injuries have caused Shive physical pain and suffering and mental anguish. Because of the injuries, it is claimed Shive will continue to suffer physical pain and suffering and mental anguish.

It claims Shive was unable to work for 15 1/2 days, at a loss of wages totaling $400. It is also alleged he paid "great sums" on hospital care and medical expenses.

New Aerial Attack On Gypsy Moth Set

STROUDSBURG — Agriculture Department officials are planning a new aerial attack on gypsy moths in the Pocono Mountains.

The assault is scheduled for this morning when a light plane, carrying 2,000 canister-bike traps, will take off from the Stroudsburg airport. Its mission will be to "bomb" a designated area with the traps.

"It's a new technique, developed by the U.S. Department of Agriculture, called saturation trapping," according to Henry F. Nixon, director of the Bureau of Plant Industry, Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture.

New Trap Designed

A new trap was designed for the purpose, he explained. It's made of brown cardboard tubing, two inches in diameter and three inches long. Funnel-shaped plastic ends permit moths to enter but prevent their escape. The inside is coated with a sticky substance to further balk escape attempts.

The object, unlike previous detection trapping, is to trap male moths before they mate. To accomplish this, he explained, the trap is baited with natural female moth scent, said to be much more powerful than synthetic scent.

The work will be done today, weather permitting, by USDA at the request of the State Agriculture Department, according to Nixon. Target areas are Lackawanna and Kresgeville, he said.

The traps will be dropped from the plane by an automatic ejection device that releases one trap every 1 1/2 seconds.

HAMILTON SQUARE — The string ran out for a Tannersville man last night when he was acted by a Hamilton Township justice of the peace on a charge of fraud on an automatic machine.

At a hearing before Homer J. Osborne Jr. of Hamilton Square, George Harpes was charged by an ex-landlord with outwitting a coin-operated, home cooking gas device by punching a hole in a quarter and putting it on the end of a string before inserting the coin in the machine.

Harpes was arrested Aug. 3 on information sworn to by Cyrus Kramis, who rented a house in Swiftwater to the defendant. Harpes had been free in $500 bail pending the outcome of last night's hearing.

Osborne continued the bail, which was posted by Howard and Beatrice Post of Henryville, RD 1.

Box yourself in.

The Volkswagen Station Wagon looks like a box because it's built like a box. It lets you store the most possible stuff in the least possible space.

(The fact is, the VW carries more than the biggest regular wagons, even though it's 4 feet shorter.)

The VW's floor plan looks like any nice little room, except it has 8 chairs, 21 windows, 5 doors and a high ceiling. You can't see the engine because it's in the back, out of the way.

If you aren't careful, you may never see the engine. It rarely uses oil between changes. And it's air-cooled, so there's no water or antifreeze.)

But the real fun comes when you climb into the box and get behind the wheel. Ahead of you, there's nothing but view; it's head and shoulders above other cars.

Behind you, there's nothing but space! It looks a mile long, but it's really only 9 inches longer than the Volkswagen Sedan.

So you can park it like the Sedan. And like the Sedan, you get a lot of extra: fresh-air heater/defroster, 4-speed shift shift, etc. I do not extra cost. Volkswagen's put everything they could think of in it.

So will you.

McCormick Cartoon

U. S. Rep. Fred B. Rooney has sharply criticized his Republican opponent in the November election for Congressman from this district for an anti-Rooney cartoon.

Rooney's criticism was two-fold. He said the cartoon "is illegal and a violation of federal statutes governing political action." He also attacked the cartoon as a smear tactic because it showed Russian Premier Khrushchev patting Rooney on the back for voting for selling wheat to Russia.

Although he says he is not going to prosecute McCormick for violation of federal campaign law, the Bethlehem Democrat has a very strong argument on this point.

The federal law (Section 612, Title 18, U. S. Code) states that any "card, pamphlet, circular, poster, dodger, advertisement, writing or other statement" about any candidate for federal office must contain "the names of the persons, associations, committees, or corporations responsible for the publication or distribution of the same, and the names of the officers of each such association, committee, or corporation."

Penalty for failure to identify the people responsible for such campaign material is a fine of not more than $1,000 or not more than one year in jail or both.

Pennsylvania law (Title 25, Section 2516) is similar, except that it specifically mentions cartoons.

As far as we can determine, the cartoon (published on the front page of The Daily Record yesterday) was not signed by any committee or person, other than the artist's name "Abbie" which appears just above the words "Vote McCormick For Congress."

If such a cartoon is not signed, it is clearly a violation of state and federal campaign law. McCormick freely admits that he caused the cartoon to be circulated.

On the second question, the content of the cartoon itself, political debate leaves McCormick a lot more latitude. He is free to criticize Rep. Rooney for his vote on the wheat deal with Russia. Many others have criticized the sale of wheat to Russia.

We happen to think that the wheat sale was a propaganda victory for the West and an open admission that the Communist farm system is a failure.

When Congress voted for the deal, President Kennedy said it would be a cash transaction. We criticized later government decisions assuring U. S. wheat dealers payment whether or not the Russians pay the bill. Such subsidies are a mistake and a reversal of the original deal.

But the clear suggestion in the cartoon that Rooney's vote, along with that of a majority of the Congress, makes Rooney or other Congressmen friends of Communist Russia is not a rational or decent criticism.

If this unsigned cartoon is an indication of the kind of argument and persuasion McCormick plans to use in the election battle, then we are, as Rep. Rooney said, in for a low-level campaign.

Comment Of The Day

"The assault upon the integrity and credibility of the press, the unparalleled charges of 'lying' and 'dishonesty' on the part of the press, are all the more amazing since they come from representatatives of a party that has always enjoyed the editorial support of a vast majority of America's newspapers."

—U. S. Rep. Henry S. Reuss of Wisconsin, a Democrat.

George Dixon

'Basic Research'

By George Dixon

WASHINGTON — The Department of Health, Education, and Welfare has awarded a contract for $6,624 to a post-graduate of the University of South Dakota to do "basic research" on "Humor as an Indicator of Personality Differences." As critics say about my type of humor, this is nothing to laugh at.

According to the terms of the contract, Stanley L. Wenck, a candidate for a doctoral degree, must finish the job by Sept. 15. HEW doesn't reveal whether it proposes to fine him if the work isn't done on time, but failure to impose penalties might result in construction contractors complaining about discrimination.

"The purpose of this project," states HEW without a chuckle, "is to determine whether a difference in humor preferences will distinguish between different personality types, e.g., conformist vs. non-conformist. If the test developed under this project proves to have this discriminating power, it can be used as another testing instrument for guidance counselors, psychologists, etc."

I've used worse doubletalk than that for years and never gotten a laugh. I was so upset by this manifest discrimination I called up HEW's Office of Education and talked to the boss man of basic researchers, Dr. Robert H. Reezier.

Doc Reezier said $6,624 was a "very small" contract for basic researching. He said it would delve into many types of humorlessness and humorlessness. He threw in a word new to me, "helephrenia." Helephrenia are people who hear something terribly sad, like their editor breaking his neck, and burst into laughter.

I asked another HEW official why this humor study was listed as "basic research." He hesitated — then blurted:

"All government research is basic research!" It is comforting to know that for a mere $6,624 we can learn "whether a difference in humor preferences will distinguish between different personality types." It should insure against a person with too much sense of humor obtaining a sensitive Government post.

After all, it would scarcely do to have a Secretary of State who just sits there and giggles.

Or one who hears a U. S. destroyer has been fired on, and rolls with laughter.

Basic research by Wenck at good ol' South Dakota U. should also insure against the appointment of Cabinet officers who would meet great national crises with ancient vaudeville routines. Otherwise we might have the Secretary of Defense get off an uproarious nifty about defoliating all Vietnam.

This causes the Secretary of Agriculture to slap his thigh and guffaw: "You tickle me!" Whereupon the Secretary of Defense retorts: "No, you tickle me first!"

By putting a basic research crimp in humor, HEW may rescue members of the Washington diplomatic corps from too much horseplay. Imagine the expression on the face of Lord Harkness if one of our career madcaps invaded the British Embassy and whacked the titled Ambassador with a slapstick!

An outlay of $6,624 might even put a damper on senatorial humor. Think of the boon to mankind if it could prevent the kind of exchange indulged in by GOP Senators John Williams of Delaware and George Aiken of Vermont during debate on Bobby Baker.

Senator Williams remarked that, as a chicken farmer, he regarded Bobby's gains as more than chicken feed. Whereupon Senator Aiken raked the easily-murdered chamber with: "As one Senator — but I am sure that other Senators would join me — I should like to testify to the fact that while the Senator from Delaware might be a chicken farmer, he is not chicken."

A Miss That Was A Hit

The Pennsylvania Story

Tough Nut To Crack

HARRISBURG — As the fall campaign in Pennsylvania prepares to move into high gear one of the toughest nuts to crack for the state's five million-odd voters will center around the difficult task of separating the fact-from-fancy claims of partisan campaign toilers.

On the other hand to dyed-in-the-wool party followers on fence — those who make up the closely-knit organization, or machine, of each party — the real facts as they stand are meaningless.

In such case, the vote already has been decided solely along party lines!

But as old pros reluctantly and ruefully admit, this very vote no longer can be considered the deciding factor in contemporary election campaigns.

The independent voter today holds the key as never before. He is the sole reason for the tremendous pitch made directly to the public in modern campaigns, and for that matter, in the everyday conduct of public office.

Pennsylvania's Governor Scranton is a good example of this approach. He undoubtedly has used the media of press, radio, television and public appearance more intensively than any preceding Chief Executive in an appeal not to the party warhorses or faithful — but to the mass of independents neither party can control.

Paradoxically, Pennsylvania's last Republican Governor John S. Fine, was so close-mouthed and reluctant to take the public into his confidence that few outside his close official family had any idea what his administration was trying to accomplish.

Press conferences — a governor's one real means of getting across these points — were limited to less than a dozen during his entire administration.

Significantly perhaps, as Mr. Fine prepared to leave office Republicans lost the gubernatorial election in 1954. However within the scope of modern day public appeal, or appeal to the independent voter, there has developed an over-emphasis which tends to make it difficult to actually distinguish "fact" from what might be termed "political fancy."

For example, recently the Governor's Office issued a mimeographed "news" handout prepared under the expert aegis of professional (bureaucratic) publicists. Mailed to newspapers within each county concerned, the format was the same in each instance but the "local angle" (for appeal to the local editor) was duly inserted.

For example, here's one, and note the lead paragraph: "Cameron County would be one of the Pennsylvania counties to benefit most if the proposal by Governor William W. Scranton for additional federal aid to the coal regions is adopted in Washington."

That's "localization" (with the Governor of course herded in right in the beginning).

Now here is why most editors throughout the state long ago learned to heave into the wastebasket each day the horde of such mimeographed monstrosities that cross their desks from the bureaucratic/political mills.

We go down to the fifth paragraph of this (taxpayer-paid-for) tome, which reads as follows:

"In addition, the Governor's request for $30 millions to help eliminate both burning and non-burning culm piles also lists burning piles near Sterling Run (which is a town, by the way; not a run or creek); in fact none of the natives can recall when there was a culm pile on fire there!"

Offhand the bureaucratically-prepared mimeographed drumbeat should be a hot tickler to the voters of the county!

No — the pattern is not peculiar to the incumbent Republican administration; it was the same under the preceding two Democratic administrations, but perhaps it does help illustrate the "fact" versus "political fancy" point.

Now this is fine — or at least so it would seem — but the fact is that no one up in Cameron County can find any old burning culm pile near Sterling Run (which is a town, by the way; not a run or creek); in fact none of the natives can recall when there was a culm pile on fire there!

The Allen-Scott Report

Platform Policy

Robert S. Allen

WASHINGTON — Numerous individuals and organizations preparing to appear before the platform committee of the Democratic national convention are in for a jolting surprise.

They will not be permitted to testify.

Under present unannounced plans, only Cabinet and other high officials and members of Congress will be heard. All others will be required to submit their views, opinions and proposals in written statements "for inclusion in the record."

Dear Abby

Stand Up To Her

DEAR ABBY: I am a painter. A month ago, while painting the house of a very rich woman the ladder collapsed (it was her ladder) and I fell to the ground.

I broke my leg in several places. Since then I've had no income. I lost $600 in pay, and my doctor bill is $150. I asked the woman at least to help me pay my doctor bill and she said her insurance didn't cover that kind of accident and she isn't responsible for my bills.

She is so cheap she told me to buy a box of plaster and make my own cast! She said I was foolish for going to a doctor.

She came over with two pain pills she bought at an Army surplus store and said they were just as good as prescription pills.

Everyone tells me I am nuts if I don't sue her. She is far from poor, Abby. She owns several houses in town. What should I do?

OUT OF WORK

DEAR OUT: See a lawyer at once! If you can't afford one go to your local Legal Aid Society. If you broke your leg on HER ladder, while painting HER house — insurance or no insurance, I'll bet SHE hasn't a leg to stand on.

DEAR BRIDE: Call your husband's dentist and tell him what you've told me. If he's one of the "best in town," he will probably insist on adjusting the dentures without charge so they'll be comfortable and wearable.

DEAR ABBY: I am an elderly man and have been dating a middle-aged widow for some time. I do not drive, so when I invite her out for dinner her son usually comes by and picks me up.

The lady is already in the front seat beside her son, and I have to sit in the back seat all by myself. There is plenty of room for the three of us in the front.

Otherwise I think the lady should sit in the back seat with me. I would appreciate

This procedure was decided on with the knowledge and approval of President Johnson.

It was disclosed at a private meeting presided over by Fred Dutton, former Assistant Secretary of State recently shifted to the Democratic National Committee as Research Director. Dutton is acting as executive secretary of the platform committee and is in charge of arrangements.

Also present were: The administrative assistant of House Democratic Floor Leader Carl Albert, Okla., chairman of the platform committee; the secretary of House Democratic Whip Hale Boggs, La.; and a New York attorney active in party affairs.

The platform committee is slated to hold three days of hearings in Washington, starting next Monday, and two days in Atlantic City, Friday and Saturday.

Convention managers expect loud outcries against the ban on non-official witnesses. If this dissent becomes too vehement, the bans may be eased somewhat at the Atlantic City sessions. Labor and certain other spokesmen may be permitted to testify on a tightly limited time basis — five or ten minutes per speaker.

No Embarrassing Planks — Avoided reason for this backstage plan is to expedite the committee's work so it can complete a platform (satisfactory to the President) for submission to and speedy and peaceful ratification by the convention on Tuesday (August 25) night.

Unquestionably, this is a fact. How very far gone is our but is administrative deterioration to retain firm control over the drafting of the platform. The emphatic aim is to ensure the writing and adoption of the kind of platform the President wants to run on — with no "discordant" or "embarrassing" planks.

They would be virtually certain to provoke virtually convention battles — in the full glare of TV cameras — and every effort is being bent to avert that.

Barring or drastically limiting "outside" witnesses is deemed an effective stratagem for preventing the build-up of a razed clamor and pressure for what are considered "undesirable" planks.

The theory is that if the representatives and spokesmen of special interest groups and organizations can't stage widely publicized appearances, their wings will be sharply clipped.

That in turn will give the administration a much freer hand in producing the kind of platform it wants.

This curb is directed particularly at three highly active elements:

(1) Nationality and ethnic groups and organizations, notably militant in demanding a strong plank espousing their interests and viewpoint. Previous Democratic platforms have had such planks, and these forces are seeking an even stronger one this year. Importantly aiding them is the forcible plank in the Republican platform.

(2) Civil rights and opposing states' rights champions and organizations, some prepared to stage large and noisy demonstrations of various kinds, including sit-ins. The former already have announced numerous demands and the intention to instigate convention fights to get their way. Their prospects are dim, but they thrive on turmoil and figure they have scored if they merely create a well publicized ruckus.

(3) The whole range of foreign policy advocates, foremost among them the ardent opponents of continued large-scale foreign aid, particularly to Communist-ruled countries, such as Yugoslavia, Poland, Rumania, the first two which have received hundreds of millions of dollars of U. S. arms, food and other supplies.

Shutting off or muffling these highly vocal partisans may prove quite a chore. The administration may find it has bitten off more than it can chew. Time will tell how far it gets in clamping on the brakes.

If the President and his lieutenants can do that, they will have pulled off a coup. They can't. They must give a free hand that they'll surely rue.

Stories Behind Words

by William S. Penfield

Bricks Without Straw — The ancients mixed straw with mud in making bricks, for the straw helped hold the mud together.

Brickmaking was one of the tasks assigned to the Israelites when they were in bondage in Egypt. The story is told in the Book of Exodus that the Egyptian taskmasters refused to furnish the Israelites any more straw, yet the Israelites were ordered to make as many bricks of the same quality as they had before.

The expression "to make bricks without straw" is an allusion to the Biblical account and means to attempt the impossible.

Gillam Endorses Guide 'For Cold War Victory'

BUCK HILL FALLS — Clifford Gillam, vice president of the Buck Hill Falls Co., yesterday endorsed the "Guidelines for Cold War Victory" released by the American Security Council.

A subscribing member of the organization, he said, "I have confidence in the men working on this report and believe its recommendations are vital to the future of the U.S."

The guidelines represent two years of work by a non-partisan committee of 28 national figures, according to council president John M. Fisher.

National Strategy Committee chairmen are Robert Galvin, chairman of the board of Motorola, Inc., and Lloyd Wright, former president of the American Bar Assn.

Well Known Members
Members include Lt. Gen. Edward M. Almond, USA (ret); Gen. Mark W. Clark; and Dr. Edward Teller.

More than 128 universities and colleges, and 102 organizations cooperated in the study, Fisher said.

Galvin described the central conclusion of the study as "Unless the United States adopts an affirmative Cold War policy, it will continue to lose the Cold War in the same way a football team would lose if it were prohibited from crossing the 50-yard line."

The guidelines set up call for a "viable U.S. foreign policy" to halt further Communist expansion, promote independence or neutrality of Communist satellites, and the establishment of governments in Russia and Red China, new or transformed, which would confine foreign policy to national interests and respect the interests of all other nations.

The study recommends several steps to accomplish these goals. It seeks affirmative action on Cuba, to include definition of all Communist war material as contraband subject to an effective blockade.

New Southeast Asia Strategy
A new strategy for Southeast Asia is defined as the extension of a "war of liberation" to the enemy side of the line. It also asks a comprehensive psychological offensive against Communism, similar to that the report states the U.S. is now subjected to by the Communists.

The basic assumption of the strategy statement is that "for nearly two decades the United States has patiently pursued the policy of containment. The failure of this policy is now clear."

Cy Barrett Says

Stock Holder Meetings

DEAR CY:

Our company is listed on the New York Stock Exchange, and my boss was appointed chief executive officer six months ago. He will preside at the annual meeting and is nervous about it. Several times he has muttered, "If we just don't get too many hecklers."

SECRETARY SADIE

DEAR SADIE:

If your boss loosed withering fire at a heckler at a Million Dollars with, "If I had a head like that I'd lance it," he'd be in public trouble. He should fortify himself with answers to suspected questions and take steps to pacify the annual meeting addicts.

These are a handful of men and women who own a few shares in numerous corporations. Their aim is to get on the record with a statement, which years hence, they can point to and bleat "I told you so." Your boss should have his minions obtain advance information on the annual meeting addicts and welcome them when they arrive.

They should then be invited to state their views early. The effect produced is like seeing one man slug another in pantomime. Very often, after having delivered their little admissions for the record, hecklers proceed in a sane and somewhat orderly fashion, assuming there is strict adherence to Roberts Rules of Order.

CY

DEAR CY:

Is it true that Great Britain and Israel have very workable systems for filling job vacancies? From what I hear, their governments learn exactly where workers are needed and then send them to the jobs. Wouldn't that be a terrific way to solve our unemployment problems in this country?

DANA

DEAR DANA:

Compulsory registration of job vacancies by employers began in Britain at the outbreak of World War II and was discontinued in May of 1956. The voluntary registration system which supplanted it has seen a steady falling off in listings. In Israel, rigidly enforced laws insure job openings will be registered with the state.

Only if the government can't fill them is an employer permitted to try other means for securing help. Six and five-tenths per cent would be classified as unemployed in Israel by our standards, compared to about 5 per cent for this country.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCIS DRAKE

Wednesday, August 12, 1964
March 21 to April 20 (Aries): Mixed planetary influences. Advantages, however, to seek and make the best use of them. Be careful in dealings with the opposite sex.

April 21 to May 21 (Taurus): Venus continues auspicious. You have fine opportunities to advance, as do not sit idly while others take their place in the sun. A fine period in which to bring up the old business with your intimate partner of the artistic and the poet.

May 22 to June 21 (Gemini): If you will maintain a calm attitude toward work and other obligations, you can avoid a lot of frustration. In dealing with others, bear in mind that you can accomplish a great deal through gentle persuasion than through the use of force.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer): Making progress may not be entirely easy now, but steady advancement is visible if you work for it. Aim to solve problems with equanimity, through restrained discussion.

July 24 to August 23 (Leo): The inauguration of new methods may lead to opposition by adjustment "niggers with alarm." But if you are sure you are right, go ahead. You are usually good at dealing with personal differences. Several good opportunities await you now.

August 24 to September 23 (Virgo): Planetary aspects neither all friendly, nor otherwise. The sun, thinking cap on early and keep it on; then you will know what to do, what not to do. There are some misleading influences now.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra): Give extra attention to business affairs now. The slightest carelessness or negligence of detail could cause needless losses later. This is the time to emphasize the firm's motto: "Quality first."

October 24 to November 23 (Scorpio): Planetary influences in this sign are for higher ones of better content and aspiration. This may demand concentration of course. You have the ability to work a great deal of knowledge and you cannot be hindered by it.

November 24 to December 23 (Sagittarius): A day for discussion. Be sure that you do not offend your coworkers by thoughtless words. Work out disagreements if any, by the use of a sagittarian strong light.

December 24 to January 23 (Capricorn): Give your closest friends, make careful decisions and put forth your best efforts, even in minor matters. This day has many rewards for the thoughtful, diligent worker of the winter.

January 24 to February 23 (Aquarius): Fine planetary influences. A good day in which to take your best shots, concluding pending matters, clear your slate generally, to start a new chapter in life. The day of the head with creative, intelligent, and original ideas.

Washington Report

Republicans To Heal Wound At Hershey Unity Conference

By Richard Spong
Editorial Research Reports

WASHINGTON — Republican Presidential nominee Barry M. Goldwater meets with Republican governors of 16 states and other G.O.P. leaders at Hershey, Pa., today.

"No one of us is completely satisfied with what goes on in the Democratic Party," former President Truman told a Democratic rally in Waco, Texas in October 1960.

"For that matter, we ought not to be. If we ever stop fighting among ourselves, the party will wither away. It would be just like the Republican party where things are dictated from the top."

Four years later Richard M. Nixon, introducing G.O.P. Presidential nominee Barry Goldwater at San Francisco, said: "We can provide what we are united. The Democrats say we are hopelessly divided. They are wrong."

Republican unity will be tested at a "peace" summit conference at Hershey, Pa., on Wednesday. The 16 Republican state governors have accepted an invitation to attend.

Gov. William W. Scranton is living up to his San Francisco pledge by agreeing to act as "keep faith with Republican principles."

Former Vice President Nixon has been invited. Presumably former President Dwight D. Eisenhower will attend, for the date was to be set to suit his convenience.

Since the San Francisco Convention, a number of "Republican candidates for national and state offices have announced that they cannot support the party's nominee for President."

Others say that they will concentrate on state issues and problems. Gov. Romney of Michigan made a statement to the latter effect.

Proponents in the group of dissenting candidates for national office is Sen. Kenneth B. Keating of New York, who on July 21 said: "Sen. Goldwater cannot expect to win support of a broad cross section of Republicans by his attacks on moderation and his defense of extremism."

On the same day, New York's senior senator, Jacob K. Javits, also a Republican, was not a candidate this year, announced that he could not support Goldwater. Both Keating and Javits called on New York Republicans to adopt a supplemental state platform which would "keep faith with Republican principles."

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

Still struggling with the problem of an earlier deadline, I'd feel much more comfortable if I could get over the conviction that news is like toast—good only if it's hot. With a 5 p.m. deadline, obviously I can't write a column about the concert which doesn't start until 8:30. But that leaves me with a big hole in the head where another idea ought to be.

There's nothing exciting going on at the river, except the river itself which, during these quiet mornings is so beautiful that it takes your breath away—and makes me feel a little guilty about raving about the seashore, as if I'd belittled a favorite friend to show off for a stranger.

It's not that I like sea shore better—it's just different. And doll parades and family reunions are fine, but I've already commented on those at various and sundry times. As a matter of fact I must, every day for 30 years, have exhausted my ideas on practically every subject under the sun.

It's only when my impressions are fresh, sharp and immediate that I get the decision that I'm saying something new and original that I haven't said before. Oh well, we can compare impressions on the concert tomorrow when you've all had a chance to go.

Meanwhile, speaking of holes in the head, I questioned the reported theme of a Daily Vacation Bible School "Making Time Work for Christ," but since it was carefully spelled out and the time set was 6 to 8:45, I assumed that it must be for teenagers with a new approach, and would bear a follow-up.

Turned out that it was for little children and the theme is "Making Time Work for Christ." It's certainly more conventional but maybe in the error there's an idea for a new kind of church conference. If there is, it's the only idea I've got at the moment.

N.Y. Artist In One-Man Show Here

East Stroudsburg — A one-man art show will be held at Zacher's Store, Crystal St., East Stroudsburg, Thursday through Saturday of this week. The artist is Sidney Klein of New York, who has been represented in shows at Gallery 81 in New York, the Educational Alliance, the Art Students League and Cooper Union.

Following his one-man show in New York in January, Art News described his heads and figures as "forceful character studies," and praised his "delicate watercolors capture the elusive lights of the European landscape."

A native New Yorker, he has painted the faces of his own city and has also painted in Europe. He will leave in September to spend the season painting in Paris.

A former pupil of Moses Soyer, he is a graduate of Hunter College and has also studied at Cooper Union, Ohio State University and the Art Students League.

Pipher Pickles a Peck Of Piccalilli; Pickles, Too

By Linda Pipher

Daily Record Home Economist — Stroudsburg — Last Fall when my college roommate, Helen Utz, was visiting me, she brought me a jar of Piccalilli that her mother had made during the summer. It was so good that you want to eat it out of the jar with a spoon. Helen's mother, Mrs. Helen Pease of Larchmont, New York, was kind enough to send me the recipe, and I know you'll want to make it, too.

As with most pickle and relish recipes, they sound long and involved, but it's not as difficult as it seems if you follow directions. Of course, it's more fun if you have someone to help you — like your husband?

Helen's Piccalilli

1. Wash 12 pint preserve jars; rinse well. Place on a wire rack in a deep kettle with cold water to cover them at least 1 inch. Cover, boil 20 minutes. Keep in boiling water until ready to fill.

2. Wash 1 peck (8 quarts) of green tomatoes; then cut out their stem ends and quarter them. Next, wash 12 red sweet peppers and 12 green peppers. Cut each pepper in half; remove the seeds and fibrous portions; quarter them. Peel and quarter 1 quart small onions.

3. Grind (using a meat grinder) all vegetables into a large bowl, cutting them into small pieces as you feed vegetables into grinder.

4. Pour ground vegetables into a colander, which is setting over a bowl. Drain off liquid and discard it. Put drained vegetables into a large kettle, add 2 quarts cider vinegar; boil uncovered for 30 minutes, stirring frequently. Again drain vegetables and discard liquid.

5. Put drained vegetables back into kettle and stir in: 1 quart cider vinegar 7 cups granulated sugar ½ cup salt 1 cup mustard seed 3 tablespoons celery seed 1 tablespoon cinnamon 1 tablespoon powdered all-spice

Simmer uncovered for 30 minutes.

6. Pack immediately into sterilized jars which have been drained. Fill jars to within 1 inch of top. Pour ½ inch layer of hot, melted paraffin into each. Seal and cool jars.

Evelyn Stetler of Bushkill gave me a jar of her chunk pickles plus the recipe, so you can make these, too. They have a very distinctive flavor, and I thought it was probably cloves but after reading the recipe I note that the only cloves are those in the pickling spice.

Although these take thirteen days to make, they are not difficult. The secret is discarding the alum water each day and making fresh solution.

William Edinger Honored By Family on 90th Birthday

Bartonsville — In his long career as carpenter, mason, wheelwright William David Edinger has had a hand in many Monroe County buildings including the Grand Theater, Sherman Theatre, and another local landmark, Ed Bessecker's barn.

On Saturday he was 90 years old and on Sunday was the guest of honor at a birthday party held at the home of his son, Earl Edinger, Stroudsburg, RD 2 with about 65 persons present.

Many of those were his descendants. He has nine living children out of 13; 33 grandchildren, 57 great grandchildren and 10 great-great-grandchildren.

His children are Mrs. Elwood Palmer, Earl Edinger, Mrs. Eugene Fetherman, Floyd Edinger, Mrs. Irma Lambert, Mrs. Woodrow Kresge, Ross Edinger, Alfred "Skinny" Edinger and his twin brother, Albert Edinger.

It was a party Mr. Edinger enjoyed thoroughly. Since the death of his wife, he lives alone in a one-room house he built himself on the old Bartonsville Road.

"I didn't feel like going back to the old place," he said. It is a snug little house with a pump in back and oil heat that keeps it warm in winter.

He has his meals next door. At home he listens to the baseball games and other favorite radio programs. It does get a bit lonely in the winter, he admitted, especially when he has to re-clean the pump every time he goes over a meal.

However, he is well, spry and still delighted to think back on that big birthday party.

Those attending included Mr. and Mrs. Earl E. Edinger, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Edinger and daughter, Robin, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Edinger and daughters, Pearl and Pamela, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Edinger Jr. and children Floyd III, Debra, Randy and Douglas, Mrs. John Edinger and sons, David and Larry, Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Kresge, Mrs. Erma Lambert, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Edinger and daughters, Donna and Darlene, Mrs. Clarence Edinger and daughters, Bonnie, Sharon, Cindy and Kelly, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Edinger and Dale II and Jill.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dickson, Mr. and Mrs. James Segedy and Susan, James and Scotty, Mr. and Mrs. David Shay and son, David, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Rehm and sons, Mikey and Dwayne, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Forry and son, Tommy.

Mr. and Mrs. George Lambert and Matthew, Mark and Melissa; Steve Hoffman, Brenda Hoffman, Roxanne Lebo, Monte Wollung, Mrs. Kathleen Scagliotta and daughter Teresa.

THE WYCKOFF SHOPPER — I have lived in Monroe County most of my life, but it is amazing to me how little I know of the countryside, and how many of the rural areas are as foreign to me as a port on distant shores. It has been years since I have visited Promised Land ... or Newfoundland ... and my last visit to Honesdale had been a hurried event by night for the purpose of presenting a Woman's Club program.

That is why I enjoyed Sunday's outing with friends so tremendously. It was a wonderful day ... a brisk one, too. Wayne County was really "air conditioned" and a jacket would have been in order as we wandered around the Honesdale Fair Grounds where booths were just being set up for the annual event which is being held all of this week. Zooming aloft on the ferris wheel, looking down upon the milling crowds, the gay spotted balloons, the sticksful of colored cotton candy, and the grandstand where a community sing was in progress, really whisked the cobwebs out of one's mind, and stirred one's hair as though it were cream being lashed by a beater.

This past week has been such a week of discovery for me! Wednesday evening, Violet Clark Eddy and I meticulously followed a series of carefully written directions leading over hidden roads to the secluded home of the Merriman Smiths near Henryville ... and what a marvelous surprise it was. "There is an old home, stunningly modernized by Ellie until now it boasts sliding panels of glass that open upon one of the most incredible views of mountains one could find anywhere. If it were my home, I would never wish to leave the second story veranda from which one surveys miles and miles of peaceful countryside in a breathtaking blending of colors. The scene must be beyond description in autumn.

Ellie is the very capable public relations woman for Cherry Lane Playhouse, and one of our most enthusiastic Wyckoff customers. When I told her the directions she had given me seemed so involved, I had appealed to our Wyckoff deliverymen for further help, she laughed. "They would know," she admitted. "Wyckoff trucks are always beating a path to my door. Edna Schmidt of your workroom would know too. Not only did Wyckoff's make the draperies for my bedrooms, but were kind enough to come and shorten them a bit when wall to wall carpeting was installed. And do you know, Wyckoff's was the only store in which I could find exactly the right shade of orange shower curtain? I love your store."

Off-white walls, charcoal beams, an imaginative and comfortable blending of contemporary and early American furniture, shaggy rugs, electrified candles, and a huge fireplace, make the Smith home miraculously relaxing and adaptable to a family of many interests and talents. And there is always that view!

As we left for the theatre ("My Fair Lady" is being held over again THIS WEEK, and is so enjoyable you can never see it too often) Ellie threw her yellow sweater across my shoulders. "How will I get it back to you," I wondered.

"Send it out in delivery with a pair of pumpkin pillow cases advertised in your White Sale flyer," she suggested.

Which proves once again that the cleverest people we know shop Wyckoff's. Did you ever doubt it?

Going to tonight's concert of the Philadelphia Symphony Orchestra at Shawnee Inn? To look your glamorous best, be sure to meet Kathleen Teeple, representing Charles of the Ritz, today at Wyckoff's and receive your free gift of custom-blended face powder. Miss Teeple will remain here for free consultations through Friday.

Scouts Select Glenn Bishong For Legion Tilt

STROUDSBURG — Glenn Bishong, former Stroud Union High School baseball star, was one of 16 players picked by major league scouts yesterday to compete in the East-West American Legion game Aug. 29 at Alnsworth Field in Erie.

Glenn was chosen yesterday after playing 4½ innings in an all-Eastern game at Connie Mack Stadium, Philadelphia. He is believed to be the first player from the Poconos to advance this far in Legion play.

In two appearances at the plate yesterday, Glenn struck out and walked. He stole second following his free pass and was on the winning team by a 2-0 score.

The 16 players selected to play in the game at Erie all represent the Eastern half of Pennsylvania. He will compete against the West All-Stars.

Orioles Trim Bosox

BALTIMORE (AP) — Boog Powell's 30th homer, a two-run opposite field blast in the seventh, broke a 6-6 tie and powered the American League-leading Baltimore Orioles to an 8-7 victory over the Boston Red Sox Tuesday night.

The come-from-behind triumph enabled the Orioles to maintain a one-game edge over the Chicago White Sox, who swept a day-night doubleheader from New York. The Yankees are 3½ games off the pace.

Powell's homer, on a two-out, 1-2 pitch from ace Boston reliever Dick Radatz, was the third two-run homer of the game for the Orioles.

Rookie Sam Bowens connected in the fourth to put Baltimore ahead 3-2 and Brooks Robinson slugged one in the sixth as the Orioles tied the score 6-6.

The final run in the sixth scored when Bowens blooped a single to center, was picked off base as he rounded first, but went all the way around to score when first baseman Dick Stuart threw wildly past second.

New Stroud Union Coach Ponders Football Future

By KEN O'BRIEN
Daily Record Sports Editor

STROUDSBURG — Andy Silock spends most of his time of these days in his new "basement workshop" at 1022 W. Main St. pondering the future of Stroud Union High School football.

The new head coach of the Mountaineers already has his home workshop equipped with a long desk, typewriter, blackboard and movie camera. On the desk lies a multitude of folders covering such facets of the sport as training drills, blocking, tackling, offensive and defensive formations.

He is not officially on the payroll of Stroud Union High School. But he is working hard and long.

Meeting Room

The workshop also serves as a meeting room for him and his coaching staff. "I'm down here sometimes until 2 or 3 in the field."

P-K Wallops Olympic, 12-1

EAST STROUDSBURG — Patterson-Kelly yesterday blasted Olympic, 12-1, in the second round of the elimination playoffs of the Industrial Softball League.

The winners scored all their runs in the first two innings, pushing across five in the first and adding seven in the second.

Tom Beseker had a perfect day at the plate for the P-K club, going 4-for-4 including a double. Bell collected three of Olympic's four hits.

Patterson-Kelly meets Kulps in the opening of the best 2-of-3 playoffs for the league championship at Kulps' field today.

Student of Eagle

The husky, handsome 36-year-old graduate of Penn State carries a similar philosophy of life. He is a student of the game of football as an end (1949-51).

For instance, at Mohawk Valley he employed mostly the I and Open I offensive formations — much like Eagle uses at Penn State.

But Andy plans to start out this season with the winged-T because he feels it is "too soon to indoctrinate this system."

He also adds: "It's awfully hard to see what we will use yet in our offensive formations because I don't know anything about our personnel yet."

After the first week of evaluation we might try something else."

A native Pennsylvanian (he was born in Hazleton) Andy is Mrs. Edward Cassatt, 5 and 4.

In the defeated division of the third flight, Mrs. James Bosick defeated Mrs. Sam Bennett, 6 and 5.

Plans For Player Draft Of Free Agents Shelved

CHICAGO (AP) — Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick's term officially was extended Tuesday through the 1965 World Series and plans for a football-style player draft of free agents were shelved.

The American and National leagues, meeting in a 30-minute joint session, quickly accepted the recommendation of the Executive Council that Frick be asked to finish his term.

Frick, 69, readily agreed to stay at his $65,000 a year job and serve with President Warren Giles of the National and Joe Cronin of the American League in preparing a report on the functions of his office.

"Study The Office"

"We are going to study the office and suggest possible changes in its functions in the report to the owners before their December meeting in Houston."

Pending submission of the report, no individuals are authorized to screen any candidates for the job.

The owners voted to include the players of the fifth place clubs in the World Series money pool, following another recommendation by the Executive Council. Each fifth place player would get about $300 on the basis of last year's receipts.

Frick's long work on a free agent player draft came to naught when the owners split down the middle in the proposal. No formal vote was taken, but Frick estimated about half the clubs favored some sort of football-type draft of high school and college boys. The others preferred the present first-year rule with alterations.

"I came away with the impression that the present rule with amendments probably will solve the problem," said Frick.

Under the present rule, first year players must be retained on big league rosters unless the club wants to risk losing the man for the $8,000 waiver fee. Only one so-called first player can be farmed to the minors without waivers and he still counts on the player limit.

Frick said there has been absolutely no talk of any franchise moves at the joint meeting.

John Fetzer, Detroit president and chairman of the television committee, was optimistic about the chances of Monday night games on national TV in 1965.

Fetzer said two games would be carried each Monday night in different time zones and no game would be sent on TV earlier than 6 p.m. local time. Fetzer has been lining up sponsors before going to the networks with approval from all 30 clubs in his pocket. All 20 would share equally in the receipts.

Chisox Sweep Yarks, 6-4, 8-2

NEW YORK (AP) — Pitcher Juan Pizarro hit a three-run homer and won his 15th game of the season Tuesday night as the Chicago White Sox whacked the New York Yankees 8-2.

The victory completed a header for Chicago which won the day game 6-4 behind Pete Ward's 17th home run.

Ward, who had six hits in the doubleheader, and Pizarro were the key stars of the sweep, vaulting the White Sox 2½ games in front of the stagger-

Braves Whip Houston, 9-6

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Hank Aaron drove in five runs with his 19th and 20th home runs, leading the Milwaukee Braves to an uphill 9-6 victory over Houston Tuesday night after the Colts had knocked out Warren Spahn for the 14th time in his last 15 starts.

Spahn, making his first start since July 26, was lifted after Walt Bonds' two-run homer in the fifth gave the Colts a 5-3 lead. The Braves southpaw great, who had been working in relief recently, saw his earned run average balloon to 5.50.

Aaron hit a two-run homer off loser Ken Johnson in the third and a three-run shot off Hal Woodeshick that climaxed the Braves' six-run uprising in the sixth. The homers boosted Aaron's major league total to 362, pushing him past Joe DiMaggio into 14th place on the all-time list.

One Out Of 53 On Payroll Of Governments In Monroe

Special to the Record
NEW YORK — How many people are on public payrolls in Monroe County?

How does the number of public employees in the local area compare, in proportion to population, with the number in other communities?

A comprehensive report on the subject has just been released by the Census Bureau, based on data gathered from all sections of the country as part of its 1962 Census of Governments.

It lists the number on the payroll of each local governmental division — county, township, municipality, school district and special district. Federal and state workers are excluded.

In Monroe County, it shows, there is the equivalent of one full-time employee for every 53 residents.

Compared with the rest of the country, this is a small operating force. The average, nationally, is one such employee for every 42 residents.

It is also below the ratio found throughout the Middle Atlantic States, one employee per 39 people.

The actual count locally reveals a total of 946 on the various government payrolls, 699 of them on a full-time basis. The remainder, who are part-timers, were translated into their full-time equivalent to permit comparison with other localities.

From the standpoint of salaries and wages, residents of Monroe County have been paying less for the conduct of their local government than have people in most parts of the United States. Whether they got more for their money or less is not taken into account.

Their total payroll, during the month for which the figures were taken, came to $237,000. This cost amounted to $6.22 per capita for every local resident.

Elsewhere across the nation, the cost of meeting local payrolls averaged $10.59 a month per capita.

In the State of Pennsylvania it was $7.88 per capita.

The report shows that local governments account for somewhat more than one-half of all civilian public employment in the United States. Of the rest, the Federal Government employs 29 percent and the states, 17.5 percent.
